Examples of revenue to be used for major capital expenditures include funds received for (a) site acquisitions; (b) new buildings; (c) additions to or renovation of library buildings; (d) furnishings, equipment, and initial book stock for new buildings, building additions, or building renovations; (e) library automation systems; (f) new vehicles; and (g) other one-time major projects. Funds transferred from one public library to another public library should be reported by only one of the public libraries.
E-rate -- If there is an invoice sent to the library that indicates the amount of the e-rate discount (i.e., supported by documentation), then the library can report this as an expenditure under Other Operating Expenditures (Item C29 or C31). In such a case, the library should also report the e-rate funds that supported the discount in Other Operating Revenue (Item B14)). ## Library Staff (J1- J09)

Report figures as of the last day of the fiscal year. Include all positions funded in the library's budget whether those positions are filled or not. To ensure comparable data, 40 hours per week has been set as the measure of full-time employment (FTE). For example, 60 hours per week of part-time work by employees in a staff category divided by the 40-hour measure equals 1.50 FTEs.

To calculate FTEs for seasonal workers, I would use the following example:

- Two three month workers (. 25 of year) work 15 hours a week, so
- $15+15=30 \mathrm{hrs} / \mathrm{wk}$
- $30 / 40=.75$ FTEs
- .75 * $.25=.1875$ FTE for entire year (based on working only three months)

Electronic Collections (K7a - K7b):
Report the number of electronic collections.
An electronic collection is a collection of electronically stored data or unit records (facts, bibliographic data, abstracts, texts, photographs, music, video, etc.) with a common user interface and software for the retrieval and use of the data. An electronic collection may be organized, curated and electronically shared by the library, or rights may be provided by a third party vendor. An electronic collection may be funded by the library, or provided through cooperative agreement with other libraries, or through the State Library. Do not include electronic collections that are provided by third parties and freely linked to on the web.
Electronic Collections do not have a circulation period, and may be retained by the patron. Remote access to the collection may or may not require authentication. Unit records may or may not be included in the library's catalog; the library may or may not select individual titles.

Include electronic collections that are available online or are locally hosted in the library.
Note: The data or records are usually collected with a particular intent and relate to a defined topic.

Circulation (L1 - L53)

Count as circulation material that is charged out for use outside the library. Include renewals and interlibrary loan transactions that are borrowed for users.

Computer use is not circulation. Neither is in-house use or items checked out to another library. An item checked out counts as one item, no matter how many uses are subsequently made of that one item.

Programs (01-064)

A program is any planned event which introduces the group attending to any of the broad range of library services or activities or which directly provides information to participants. Programs may cover use of the library, library services, or library tours. Programs may also provide cultural, recreational, or educational information, often designed to meet a specific social need. Examples of these types of programs include film showings, lectures, story hours, literacy, English as a second language, citizenship classes, and book discussions. Count all programs, whether held on- or off-site, that are sponsored or co-sponsored by the library. Exclude programs sponsored by other groups that use library facilities. If programs are offered as a series, count each program in the series. For example, a film series offered once a week for eight weeks should be counted as eight programs.
Note: Exclude library activities delivered on a one-to-one basis, rather than to a group, such as one-to-one literacy tutoring, services to homebound, resume writing assistance, homework assistance, and mentoring activities. Also, do not enter the number of programs or attendance in more that one category.

Planning and Evaluation (S1)

S1 Describe significant events, changes, or improvements to your library's facilities, programs, or collections during this past fiscal year. Include a statement describing any new property acquired by the library by any means purchase, gifts, Madison County Public Library has seen significant statistical growth over the past fiscal year, especially in the programming area. Library programming staff have been focusing on efficiency in programming, attracting a higher average of participants per program. Our 2015 Summer Reading program doubled last year's numbers in several categories, including total number of cards completed. The free lunch program also saw significant increases with the addition of the Local Foods Weekend program where free lunch was offered to all ages, with an emphasis on locally sourced foods. Facility-wise, MCPL bequests, et focused this past year on refurbishing our existing buildings with new paint, and, in Richmond, the beginning of a major lighting fixture replacement project, replacing all existing traditional lighting with greener LED fixtures with no ballasts and no bulb replacement for 5 years. The up-front cost is significant, but projections show it will more than pay for itself over the next five years. This was the year we completed our Richmond Annex project as well.

We had already acquired an adjacent property with an existing building on it suitable for offices. This year we paved the parking area, adding 22 new spaces, and we did some minor refurbishing of the building to support its use as offices for countywide staff including Technical Services, Outreach and Bookmobile, Collection Services, and IT. This past year was a major planning year for our library. Staff worked on developing a new 3-year Strategic Plan for operations, while the Board concurrently worked with a consultant to develop the library's first Long-Range Response has been Plan for facilities and growth. Throughout the year, entered. community forums were helped to elicit input from the public. The new Strategic Plan was adopted by the Board this summer, and the Long-Range Plan will be approved in September. Like many libraries and buildings in Kentucky, our library was hit hard by winter weather. Build-up of snow and ice on the roof in the Richmond facility led to a flood in the children's area. Damage was not extensive, but the clean-up time was. The library board has approved a new roof project for the Richmond building, and the director is currently working on preparing bid specs for that project. We upgraded our security camera system this past year, adding remote access to cameras for management staff. We are currently working with the expanded e-Rate program to significantly upgrade our infrastructure to support faster connections for customers and staff. There were no significant staffing changes, but two Trustees resigned and one completed his second term, so se added two new Trustees mid-year. Since the second Trustee resigned at the end of June, that position was vacant at the end of the fiscal year, but it has since been filled. We also hired a new outside accountant after more than 20 years with the previous one. This changeover also took place mid-year. Our Friends of the Library group remains strong, supporting the work of the library both financially and through volunteerism and advocacy. The first ever Little Quilt Show and Auction they sponsored last winter raised more than $3,000.
